March's big tailoring business has whetted our appetite for more. We have just secured a magnificent stock of Fine English Striped Trouserings and Cheviot Suitings, which we shall make to-order in our inimitable style, for prices unheard of outside of trashy "sweat shop" tailoring. Don't confound these Fine Imported All-wool Cloths with the nasty, shoddy American stuffs offered by cheap-john "sweat shops." We pay 60c. and 75c. per yard for linings and they pay 6c.—and that one item is a good illustration of the difference all the way through!

Honest methods here, as well as honest tailoring, and we won't charge you a cent if you can equal our tailoring elsewhere at our prices.
Get your orders in early on this sale to insure delivery before the hot days now fast approaching. Here are the prices again:

English Trouserings to-order at $5.25.
Cheviot Suitings to-order at $17.50.

CROKER'S VICTORY POPULAR

Many Cheers Greeted the Victorious American Bolt.
His Backers Believed to Have Won Large Sums—Comment of the English Sporting Papers.
The cheers which arose on all sides as the American horse won yesterday's Crawford plate at Newmarket, England, could not have been heartier if an English horse had come in ahead. Messrs. Croker and Dwyer and Hardy, Campbell, their trainer, were congratulated on all sides. When Sims rode into the paddock after the race the cheering was renewed, and the unsaddling was witnessed by a great crowd of people, the majority passing favorable comments upon both horse and rider. Sims then went to the weighing room and sat on the historic Jockey Club scales, and soon the reassuring "All right" was called, an announcement which met with another cheer from the crowd.
In the jockeys' dressing room Sims met with another reception, the famous jockeys crowding around him and shaking hands with the winner of the race.
During the course of an interview Sims said: "Yes, we have made a good beginning, and I only hope we can keep it up. I got off well, and kept well throughout. I thought at one time that Erin might prove dangerous, as my mount was the hind leg, but Eau de Gallie was there when I called on him. The courses are certainly very different from what I have been accustomed to, but I am sure that the jockey's sure in his running today. I want to say a word about the way I have been treated here. Nothing could be kinder to me, and the English jockeys have acted toward me."
Eau de Gallie, more generally known in this country as Ulica, is a three-year-old gelding, bred by the late Mr. J. B. Rose, and shipped to England with the Croker-Dwyer string in January last. He is a half brother to Clifford, and as a two-year-old won the expectation stakes at Brooklands, and the day last year. He finished second in the Great American stakes on May 25, Walter winning the prize. Ulica won a sweepstakes in which Monmouth, Roslin and Sir Dixon, Jr., started. On September 25, at Jerome Park, Ulica won from Midway, Cookade, Rooking and Metropolis. His last victory of the year was at the close of the Jerome Park meeting, when he beat Jewel, Beaupard, Fannie B. Vent and Vocality. Ulica was never considered a very good horse in this country.
Mr. Croker emphatically contradicts the report that Sims was in Paris, and that he had to raise the jockey's salary in order to prevail upon him to come to England. Mr. Croker adds: "Sims has been here since he first arrived in the country and was anxious to ride for us, and we were anxious to have him do so. I did not raise his salary. He is under contract to me to ride for a whole year, and we are both satisfied with the arrangement."
Mr. Croker spoke in very complimentary terms of Sims' riding, remarking: "He is a cool-headed and splendidly brave rider. A well-known sportsman said: 'I never saw a more cordial reception than which was accorded to the American horse today. Even the Prince of Wales never had a better reception.'"
The London Sporting Life says: "It is something of which Englishmen may be proud to raise the jockey's salary in order to prevail upon him to come to England. Mr. Croker adds: 'Sims has been here since he first arrived in the country and was anxious to ride for us, and we were anxious to have him do so. I did not raise his salary. He is under contract to me to ride for a whole year, and we are both satisfied with the arrangement.'" again. There is nothing to it but to keep within striking distance, if possible, though the writer says he much doubts what should have been done in this race. The article concludes: "After this, let out for Stonell for the Jubilee Stakes."

The Telegraph's Newmarket correspondent says that the result of the race is conclusive evidence that it would be folly to hold the American horses cheap. "Sims has shown that he knows his business at both ends of a race. He may not be an artist according to our ideas, but none the less he is quick and able and will probably win plenty of races here and elsewhere."
The Newmarket correspondent of the London News says: The Americans have not been long in giving us a taste of their quality. It was a clever win and a very popular one. A word of praise is due Sims, who rode a nice, steady race.
Jockey Murphy's Fine Riding.
Jockey C. Murphy gave a fine exhibition of horsemanship at the Alexander, when track yesterday, when he rode on his mount Lady Danby, slipped while at the post in the second race. The mare ran away, and ran about three miles before she could be stopped, the boy finally jumping from her as she slowed up. He was loudly applauded for his pluck in sticking to the animal. The attendance was very large, and twenty bookmakers weighed in. Three favorites, an outsider and a second choice were the winners. The track was in good condition, and the racing was fairly interesting. The winners were: Ella, 12 to 1; Tom Lally, 8 to 1; Trinculo, 6 to 1; Gallatin, even money; Rama, 12 to 1; and West Side, even money.
Good Shooting at Pittsburgh.
The Interstate Association shoot was commenced yesterday at the grounds of the Pittsburgh Gun Club, and will continue two more days. Seven thousand targets were broken yesterday. There were thirty-three entries in the handicap target race. E. P. Pruitt, Washington, D. C., was the winner, with 115; B. McKelden, Washington, D. C., second, 95 out of 120; J. A. Flick, Ravenna, Ohio, third, 91 out of 113.
Golf Tournament Postponed.
The tournament of the Washington Golf Club will not come off this week, as originally intended, but will be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 25, 26 and 27.
BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY.
The decision of Judge Lumpkin in the case of the Seaboard Air Line against the Western and Atlantic and its lessee, the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, in which the Seaboard asked an injunction against the defendant roads, restraining them from obeying the order of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, ordering them to cease prorating arrangements with the Seaboard, was rendered at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday, and both sides claim a victory.
Judge Lumpkin begins by granting in general terms the injunction, using the terms of the contracts between the Seaboard Air Line and the Western and Atlantic, but stating that it shall apply with the limitations stated afterward.
The limitations are that the injunction shall apply only to business originating on the Western and Atlantic railroad for the Seaboard, or on the Seaboard for the Western and Atlantic, which would seem to shut out the Seaboard from prorating arrangements through business. It is probable, however, that the final interpretation of the decision will have to wait the submission to the court of particular cases coming under the provisions named in the decision.
Resigned on Account of Ill Health.
Because of ill health, James B. McCaffrey has resigned his position as captain of the watch at the District Jail. Mr. McCaffrey was formerly deputy marshal at the Police Court under Marshal Randall, and has been a sufferer from rheumatism for several months.

A REMEDY OF GREAT VALUE.

In an article on proprietary remedies, which appeared in a recent issue of the "St. Louis, Mo., Medical Brief," Prof. H. H. Esner, D. P. B. S. C., of Westfield, N. J., says: "One notable instance in point of efficacy is offered by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which has secured reputation as curative of Bright's disease and other ailments of the kidneys. In concluding this article, Dr. Esner says: 'Manifestly, therefore, treatment of the kidneys and bladder, both preventive and curative, is called primarily for the inclusion of all factors causative of functional derangements. Diseases of the kidneys demands re-establishment of normal functions, destruction of the micro organism causing the disease, and repair of the tissues. These three demands are fully met by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy—it restores and regulates the renal functions, it destroys the micro germ, and repairs the broken-down tissues.'"

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is an unfailing specific for such diseases as Rheumatism, neuralgia, biliousness, dyspepsia, kidney and liver complaints. In Bright's disease, diabetes, urinary troubles and the sickness peculiar to women, it cures where all else fails.

TOO MUCH FOR GEORGETOWN

The Tigers Beat Them Out With Seeming Ease.
It Was an Interesting Game to Watch, With Hard Hitting and Clever Fielding.

Last week the Yale base ball team ran up against the nine from Georgetown and left the grounds decidedly the worse for the meeting. Yesterday a little nine from Princeton, calm in the belief that they had an easier thing than was given to them in the Yale game. They found the difference before the game was well advanced, and Princeton is credited with the game by a score of 12 to 7.
The game was played on the Georgetown College field in the presence of a large crowd of spectators, many of them ladies, who wore the colors of one college or the other, although the "rooters" for Georgetown were, of course, in the majority. The ground was not in the best condition for playing, but the field presented a pretty spectacle with one side lined with carriages and equestrians, and the grand stand full of pretty girls, waving big banners of blue and gray or orange and black.
It was not a perfect game by any means, but it was a thoroughly interesting one to watch, and if the Jersey boys continue to improve as the season advances they ought to be able to put up a hard game with their old rivals from New Haven. For the first six innings the game was as close as could be, each side having scored one in the second and third innings. It was anybody's game, and the followers of Princeton were worried with the thought of a possible let down. This did not occur, however, and in the seventh inning Yale scored two runs, and the game was theirs. In the eighth inning, with the assistance of a double and a single and Otto made three singles. Princeton was unlucky in that her errors were made at the right time when she was bunting hits. This resulted in four runs for Georgetown in the eighth, which revived the hopes of the local crowd, but not for long. Williams, Princeton's pitcher, was way off yesterday, and seemed to have lost control of the ball badly. Being unable to get the ball over the plate with regularity he had to let up on his speed and he gave eight bases on balls, and let four Georgetown men go to first, struck by pitched balls. In the ninth inning Princeton did some capital work. Carmody, the first man at bat, made a cracking three-bagger. The next two men came close to bat long flies out to the left and right, which were gobbed up so quickly that Carmody had no time to get home. The third man went out to left field and Georgetown failed to score. Williams work behind the bat was first-class, and refuted the oft-made statement that Princeton is weak in catchers.
For Georgetown, big Mike Mahoney played a perfect game at first, and took his eleven chances like a man. He pitched out the ninth inning and did well in the box. McGrath and E. Mahoney carried off the honors for Georgetown, and Dan McCarthy led his team with three hard singles.
The complete score of the game was as follows:

GEORGETOWN.	PRINCETON.
Harley, 1st, 2, 1, 1, 0	Payne, 1st, 2, 3, 5, 1, 0

SUBMITTED A SCHEDULE.

An interesting meeting of the Departmental League.
The meeting of the Departmental League last evening at the city post office was full of interest, and owing to the amount of business transacted, it was nearly midnight when the session adjourned. The report of the entertainment committee showed that the program for the benefit on the night of the 30th is nearly complete, and the list includes some of the best talent in the city, among others Instructor Crossly of the C. A. C. and some of his men.
A large portion of the evening was taken up by the consideration of the report of the rules committee, through Chairman Young, and the changes as suggested by the committee were adopted nearly in their entirety.
One section makes the chief of umpires one of the regular officers of the league, while another fixes the minimum of membership at eight clubs and the maximum at ten.
When the constitution had been disposed of the question of season tickets was taken up. Last year there was a good deal of laxity in this matter, but this season things will be different, and those who desire can get their tickets at a price of $5 apiece, or at the rate of about 4 or 5 cents a game. Single admission will be 25 cents to the grand stand and left field seats and 15 cents to the right field bleachers. Complimentary passes for ladies have been printed and will be issued at once.
Secretary Dickens submitted a playing schedule, without the dates, for the season, and according to this last year's champions, the District Commissioners' team, will open the season with the game of engraving and printing. Fixing the dates has been left to the Messrs. Wagner and Strasburger.
Encouraging reports were received from representatives of six of the teams, and the two new clubs, the Government Printing Office and the Washington Light Infantry, promise to be strong factors in the race.
Won by the C. A. C.
The W. L. C. nine was defeated at Columbia field yesterday, 15 to 6, by the Columbia Athletic Club nine. The soldiers put her errors were made at the right time when she was bunting hits. This resulted in four runs for Georgetown in the eighth, which revived the hopes of the local crowd, but not for long. Williams, Princeton's pitcher, was way off yesterday, and seemed to have lost control of the ball badly. Umpire McQuaid Dead.
John McQuaid, well-known base ball umpire, died suddenly last evening at the residence of his brother-in-law, Frank Lawler, at Chicago. McQuaid had been ill several days with stomach trouble, caused by a severe cold, but it had been thought that he would be up in a short time. Death is supposed to have resulted from heart failure, due to stomach trouble.
New England Billiard Champion.
The billiard tournament for a purse of $250 and the championship of New England, which has been in progress at Boston since March 20, was finished last night. Fred E. Ames, Jr., of New York, defeated the title and takes the purse.
Bench Show at Boston.
The eleventh annual bench show of the New England Kennel Club opened at Mechanics' Hall, Boston, yesterday. There were 732 canines entered, among them being a number of animals valued at about $10,000 and $15,000. In the St. Bernard class Alton, Jr., and Duke of Lincoln are the stars. The Newcastle kennels show a collection of Charles spaniels, while the Wee Wah kennels of New York have sent some prize-winning field spaniels. The judges began operations at the opening of the show. Four rings are to be in operation at once.
Carter Not in Form.
The Yale University team were beaten by Baltimore yesterday by a score of 17 to 2. Carter, Yale's crack pitcher, was in the box for seven innings, but he was unable to fool the heavy hitters of the Baltimore team. He received ragged support at times, Reddington, at second, making several costly errors. Trudeau succeeded Carter and made a fair showing, and his timely single scored the two runs made by Yale.
The Baltimore played a fast, clean fielding game, and used their bats with telling effect. Kelly's record at the bat was remarkable. Out of six times he lined out two singles, two doubles, a triple and a home run.
Another for the Arsenals.
The Arsenals defeated a team from the D. C. office yesterday with ease by a score of 26 to 6. The D. C. O's were short three of their regular men. The winning team put up a snappy game all through, a throw from deep left field to the plate in the second by Gibson and a running backward catch being the features of the game. Drummond and Healy composed the winning battery, and the umpire was Mr. Hubbell.
After the fifth inning both teams changed pitchers. Priest began for Cornell and Day for Syracuse. As nearly as can be determined from a single game, Cornell will have an average, but not a brilliant team this season, with a possibility of weakness at catcher and third base.
Score—Cornell, 6; Syracuse, 4.
Base hits—Cornell, 9; Syracuse, 5. Errors—Cornell, 2; Syracuse, 5. Batteries—Cornell, Priest, Smith and Hamlin; Syracuse, Lathrop, Day and Rafter.
Amateur Base Ball.
The Arsenals and the Portlands played an exciting game of ball on the former's ground Monday, which resulted in a victory for the Portlands by 15 to 10.
The third team of the Canterbury boys defeated the third team of the B. and O. Stars by 25 to 14. The battery for the winners were Vogt and Crowley.

are not very large, but they are as large as others' 60c. sort. We have larger ones for 75c. 2-burner Gas Ranges, $15 up. 3-burner Gas Ranges, $20 up. 4-burner Gas Ranges, $25 up. Bread Toasters, 60c. Pick up what I considered to be one of the prettiest on the rack and was surprised to notice that its price was but fifteen dollars. It was made of fine black brocade and the bottom of the Caps had been cut out in Yandike points, heavily embroidered and finished with a false undercap of plaited China silk. The neck was trimmed with full silk chiffon and satin ribbon, topped off with a buckle. I would not have been surprised had it been marked twenty-five instead of fifteen dollars.
If you have been undecided about a Silk Waist and haven't seen yet just what you want don't fail to see the new ones at McKnew's, which, they inform me, had just come in. I was shown a line of Wash Crepon Waists that looked for all the world like silk, in lovely shades of lavender, pink, light blue and white green, at two dollars and a quarter. In the "Pearly Silk" Waist I noticed a handsome pattern of styles and colorings, ranging as high as twenty dollars, many of which were perfect "dreams." I was particularly struck with the cheapness of Black Figured Japanese Silk Waists at five dollars.
No woman will have cause to regret buying her Spring Coat, Cape or Waist at McKnew's, or anything else, for that matter, as you can depend upon just what they tell you, and should anything they sell you prove unsatisfactory your money would be forthcoming upon request.
